"GOOD-BYE DOLLY GRAY"

Played in Jail on a Mouth Organ.

JACKSON PLAYS IT AND THEN SOBS

Cries "My Poor Wife" and a Moment Later Hits Up Lively Tune.

"Is Nigel Jackson pupule?" That is the question the persons who have heard of his actions during the last two days and nights, in his cell at the police station, are beginning to ask.

Jackson is there on the charge of murdering Mrs. E. B. Friel by burning the Friel home. He maintains his innocence. He has a "mouth organ" in the cell with him, and during yesterday was playing on it all day. At times he could be heard playing the liveliest of music hall airs, and then the melodious and semi-sad strains of "Good Bye, Dolly Gray" could be heard coming from his cell. He would break down while playing this air, and amidst tremendous sobbing, would say in an agonized tone: "My poor wife, my poor wife." In a few minutes a lively strain would break out.

Jackson played well. His tunes were good as long as he stuck to such tunes as "Way Down South in Dixie," and "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," but when he played "Dolly Gray" and "Just Break the News to Mother" to the accompaniment of sobbing, the other prisoners were a bit unnerved.

Jackson at all times protests his innocence of doing any harm to the Friel household.

MULE DRIVERS MUST PAY FINES

Judge Wilcox Criticizes Action of Men Who Are Cruel to Animals.

Fines of twenty dollars apiece, imposed by Judge Wilcox on each of the drivers of teams on the Waikiki Road filling contract, will no doubt put a stop to the need of further complaints regarding the cruel treatment of animals working on the road.

The drivers arrested were Kaleole, Gonsalves, Brown, Dunn and Paahaula, and they were alleged to have ill treated and overworked their mules. The five animals on whose account the men were arrested, showing the marks of ill usage, were introduced in evidence by the defendant, but were examined outside of the court room. The trial was not concluded until afternoon, and Judge Wilcox imposed a fine of $20 upon each of the defendants excepting Kaleole, who was discharged with a reprimand.

All the defendants were severely scored by the court, who said that the contractors, and not the drivers, should be made to suffer. Judge Wilcox advised that the best thing for the contractors would be to pay the fine and take the lesson to heart.

At least half a dozen horses have died on the Waikiki Road since the filling of that thoroughfare was begun.

In the case of J. W. Anderson a nolle prosequi was entered as to the larceny charge and a charge of drunkenness preferred.

SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN.

A Preparation That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ Discovered.

Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite that digs into the scalp, causing the vitality of hair at the root, causing falling hair and baldness, biologists set to work to discover some preparation that will kill the germ. After a year's labor in one laboratory, the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered; and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, which besides curing baldness, and thinning hair, speedily and permanently eradicates dandruff. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."
